

The Chipmunk Harvesting Rhyme

Some animals harvest food for the winter. This is a good rhyme to use when counting, sorting and hiding different kinds o nuts.

I am a little chipmunk sitting high up in a tree.
Autumn leaves are falling, falling all around me.
Winter will be coming soon, and I am busy all the day.
Finding nuts and acorns to store and hide away.

Hide them in a hole, here and everywhere,
I have found so many, I have enough to share.
Some for you, and some for you, and some of them for me,
When winter comes, and it is cold, we'll all have nuts to eat.
